Freehold

Situated in the very heart of the medieval town of Sandwich, this beautifully renovated Grade II listed townhouse presents a rare opportunity to acquire a characterful period home that seamlessly blends historic charm with contemporary living. Currently operating as a successful and lucrative Airbnb, the property is offered to the market chain-free and provides exceptionally versatile accommodation arranged over three floors.

The ground floor is accessed directly from New Street into a welcoming central entrance hall. As a practical home office area or additional storage. To the rear, the stunning kitchen and dining area has been thoughtfully designed around a classic Shaker-style aesthetic, featuring framed cabinetry, oak block work surfaces, integrated appliances including a double oven, induction hob and dishwasher, together with stable doors opening onto the courtyard garden.

The first floor continues the impressive standard of presentation and is arranged from a central landing. The principal bedroom is an elegant and generously proportioned double room. The second floor provides two further generous double bedrooms, both beautifully presented and enjoying the same meticulous attention to detail found throughout the home.

Externally, the private rear courtyard garden provides a delightful extension of the living accommodation. Enclosed by traditional masonry walls, the courtyard enjoys a sunny aspect and has been thoughtfully landscaped with raised flower beds, attractive seating areas and gated rear access onto New Street

New Street is widely regarded as one of Sandwich's most desirable addresses, positioned within the heart of this historic Cinque Port town and surrounded by an excellent selection of independent cafés, restaurants, public houses and boutique shops. Sandwich railway station is within comfortable walking distance, offering regular services to Canterbury and high-speed connections to London, while nearby public parking, including the Guildhall car park, provides additional convenience for residents and visitors alike.
